A new resident...

Welcome to Chester Sebastian Toke, baby of Amber-Jane Taylor and Krisztian Toke of Laundry Lane.

Born 15th September at 10:23am weighing 7 pounds, 8 ounces.

Congratulations to the new parents and family.

Rural Coffee Caravan

An enjoyable few hours was spent with the Rural Coffee Caravan at the beginning of September – free tea and cake plus some games and craft activities were enjoyed along with the very sociable RCC team. They are planning further visits on October 3rd and November 7th between 10.30am and 12.30pm.

The Rural Coffee Caravan delivers information and friendship across Suffolk. Information is power – and the Rural Coffee Caravan befriends people and offers them access to the information they need to empower them. Knowing what's going on in our own communities isn't always easy. The RCC brings its project directly to rural communities, equipped with coffee, tea & homemade cakes, along with all sorts of information about organisations and the services they offer you.

They support a number of causes aimed at helping local communities and are currently running a project to help those struggling to meet their heating bills in the colder months. Their Warm Homes project is an initiative funded by East Suffolk Council and the Warm Homes Fund; offering free guidance and support to people in rural Suffolk. Their Rural Energy Officers are fully trained and DBS checked.

Additionally, at the October visit there will be a representative from Suffolk Carers Matter – they provide information, advice, mental and emotional wellbeing support for unpaid carers across Suffolk. They support anybody who is caring for a family member or friend, be it either their physical or mental health. Their website is <https://www.suffolkcarersmatter.org.uk>.

Do come and join us again at either or both of the next sessions. It's open and free to all. If you have any concerns or queries regarding anything from fitness to finance, scams to mobility difficulties, the team are there to try and help point you in the right direction.

Kids Club

Summer Report: The sun shone and the Kids came out to play

For three Fridays in August The Kids Club Team welcomed 64 children to their Summer sessions. There was fun with tie-dyeing, stitching felt fruit and veg characters and numerous other art projects. Outside the children could try badminton, rebounder net and balls and not forgetting the ever-popular bows, arrows and targets. As the weather was perfect they were able to picnic up on the Millenium Green and enjoy a Treasure Hunt.

Thanks to everyone that helped and to everyone that came and made it such a successful summer for us all.

We look forward to welcoming you to our usual Kids Club sessions held fortnightly in The Hub every other Friday, 4-5.30pm, £1.50 per child. Dates are on the back page. We are always looking for more adults to help lead the sessions. The only requirement is to be DBS checked, which can be arranged. If you are interested then please drop in to us at Kids Club or email sally.clarke@live.com.

The next club will be on Friday 25th October. We will be having a Halloween party so fancy dress is necessary. Spooky games and spooky food will be on offer. More details will be sent out to children and parents via the mailing list.

Budding Ideas

I don't know about you but autumn seems to have arrived very early this year. The first day of September was like a switch was thrown - temperatures dropped drastically, leaves began to fall and night time temperatures fell to just a few degrees above zero.

Into autumn proper and despite a brief flurry of warmer weather leading into the month we still have not had the rain we so desperately need. Despite this the gardener soldiers on. The next couple of months are critical for preparing your garden for the winter season ahead.

This is the perfect time for moving trees or shrubs whilst the soil is still warm and, hopefully, damp. Water the plant the day before you move it and when you've decided the new position dig out a planting hole to twice the size of the existing rootball. When digging out the plant from its existing position the aim is to avoid root damage so make sure you dig carefully and lift as much of the rootball as possible. Position the plant, backfill and firm into place. Watering until established is essential, particularly if there is no rain.

This is also the season to split tired herbaceous perennials. Cut the dead materials down to the crown and dig up the mass. Place on a hard surface such as a board and using a sharp spade, split into sections, cutting out the old woody middle section which can be disposed of. You can also use a saw with particularly difficult sections. Re-plant the new split sections, with a little bonemeal around the roots and water until established.

We will likely see the first frosts fairly soon and possibly spells of prolonged rain. There are certain plants, i.e. alpines, that are very hardy when it comes to cold temperatures but will suffer from rot if waterlogged so move these under shelter or, if not possible, cover with protective cloches. Equally, those tender plants that are susceptible to colder temperatures such as bananas, cannas, echiums, etc can be wrapped to protect from sudden frosts or cold snaps. I use bubble wrap or fleece around a wire frame. Check regularly that the wrapping is in place.

Although some folk leave it until February to prune roses, I prefer October. In reducing the height of your shrub roses you are reducing the chance of wind rock and damage over the winter period. It also encourages the plants to conserve energy rather than continue to support long leggy shoots, giving a more compact and much tidier shape. Always prune to an outward-facing bud. With climbing roses, it is easier to see where to prune and where to tie in to your support frames. Always aim to tie in as many shoots close to horizontal as possible: these stems will produce more flowering shoots. If any are affected by blackspot, gather up the infected leaves and bin them - leaving them in situ will only affect your plants next year.

As the leaves fall, the bare bones of the garden are easier to see and you can view the garden structure and plan for next year. Think about what seeds you might want to grow or what new plants you can find: this is an exciting time to plan for the gardening year ahead.

Hub News

There have been quite a few events on at the Hub recently alongside the start of term classes and a number of private hires. Do remember that residents of the three villages (Huntingfield, Heveningham and Ubbeston) only pay 50% of the usual private hire rates. Details can be found at The Hub or on the website

<http://huntingfield.onesuffolk.net/the-hub/>

Unfortunately, we had to cancel the September brunch as there was no-one available to act as "host". It would be great to see some "new faces" who would be willing to act as hosts. All you need to do is plan the menu, shop and cook - with plenty of volunteers to assist. It's not a daunting task and most find that it is actually good fun! If you are interested please speak to a trustee or email thehub@huntingfield.org.

We also need to plan some future events to entertain us in the colder months. Bingo sessions are starting in November but, apart from the usual groups meeting up there is little planned in the way of "entertainment". The Hub is your village hall and, although the trustees attend to the management and day-to-day running, we are a mere few and do not have the capacity to maintain a constant flow of events and functions. If you would like to be part of The Hub and have some ideas to share please contact us.

Petanque Club News

The Huntingfield Hares on their piste!

Our season is almost about done - all bar the shouting. Coming up are the last three matches of the Hares Knockout competition which is reaching the semi-final stages. At long last the combined efforts of the Hares Petanque players have secured a runner-up spot in Division 5 of the Adnams League with the same number of points as the winning club, Kettleburgh Bells, who edged us into 2nd place on shots difference. We managed 4 wins, 2 draws and 2 losses so all in all a very successful season. Well done everyone and hello to life in Division 4 - the consequence of our success. We look forward to meeting some new opponents along with Kettleburgh, who are also promoted.

I must also report that, with funding (courtesy of the Millenium Green Trustees) for repairs to the piste on the Green and with assistance from a number of Hares members, the much-needed replacement of the piste's surrounding boards has been carried out.

We have the Huntingfield Hares Petanque Club AGM and dinner in the Huntingfield Arms on Sunday 17th November. By the end of the evening the club will most likely have a new captain as I am standing down in order to let someone else drive the Hares forward.

Church Chat

We've had a considerable number of visitors this summer, all of whom came to see Mildred's famous painted ceiling. The visitor's book is swelling with glowing appreciation – one of my favourites is a comment from a lady who writes: "There is an extremely large spider in the loo".

Please feel free to make suggestions as to what we should put on the health and safety notice...

Another landmark recently achieved is the installation at St Mary's of free high speed WiFi within the church. You don't need to sign in – there's no password - just choose the guest option when you see it displayed on your device.

As some of you may know, I'm not too well at the moment. I would like to thank those who have sent good wishes and messages of support. It has made me reflect on the value of friendship and neighbourliness - I believe that our village is a source of great support from all when it is seen to be required.

The next church services at St Mary's will be 13th October and 10th November at 9.30am.

Blessings to you and yours

There is also a separate amount which goes to St Mary's Church each year towards the maintenance and repair of the fabric of the building.

Christmas Supper

The Christmas Supper which has been held in Huntingfield for many years is this year reverting back to the Huntingfield Arms as hosts. Mike and Tom, who have previously cooked up a feast at The Hub are unable to do so this year and no residents are willing to attempt to take on the challenge.

Supper is planned for the evening of Sunday 15th December. There are limited places available so please book directly with Steve and Sara at The Arms. Details of menu and prices will follow in the next Hare.

Macmillan Fundraising

Sat 28th Sept we baked and baked and baked, and the people came from far and wide to eat, drink (coffee) and be merry!

What a great morning we all had, many thanks to everyone that came and donated cakes and raffle prizes. In the evening the fun continued with a quiz night and I am very happy to report that we raised a MASSIVE £485 after expenses. A big pat on the back to you all.

Emma's Column

My 3rd meeting as Chair of the Parish Council took place on Monday 23rd September. With the assistance of a recent training course, myself and my fellow councillors are feeling more confident in our roles and have a clearer understanding of what is expected of our Parish Council.

I am happy to report that we are moving forward with the installation of a handrail to the steps from the village green to The Hub – as requested by a number of people. We also have funding to install a new dog bin but there is some question as to its site. Obviously, it needs to be away from places where people congregate and children play. If you have any suggestions please contact the Parish Council.

David Gentleman and the village sign he designed for us

Some of you may have noticed that the Huntingfield village signs have gone missing. These have been taken away for repair as they were becoming weather-worn. Many thanks to Sue and David Gentleman who have undertaken the arrangement and are footing the bill for this work and very good luck to them for the future as they have recently sold their property so we will sadly no longer see them in the village.

Thanks also go to Carla Kruger who very kindly undertook the task of replacing the broken grit bin on Holland Rise after it was damaged by a delivery lorry.

Recently we were approached by Heveningham PC regarding the joint purchase of a speed indicator device. You may have seen these in action in Walpole. It was agreed at the meeting to express our interest as the PC often receives comments about excessive speeding through the village and other options to curtail this have not been viable. I will update you on this when we have more information.

Finally, comment was made regarding the loss of our Wednesday bus service. This service, which was well-used by a number of our residents has now been stopped. We will be writing to our County & District representative, Cllr Burroughes, regarding this issue.

That's all to report from the latest meeting. The next will take place on 13 November, 7.30pm at The Hub. This will be our budget meeting. Please come along and support the meetings – they are open to the public. Details can be found on the website at <http://huntingfield.onesuffolk.net/huntingfield-parish-council/> or on the parish notice board.

Spanish evening recipe

Thanks to everyone who came along to the Spanish evening at the Hub and helped make it a fun and enjoyable event. Good food, friends and much laughter thanks to an entertaining after dinner speaker who taught some brave volunteers to Flamenco in 10 minutes! Not to mention live Spanish guitar from Ian Cooper. The team received great feedback including "Thank you so much for a superb Spanish evening. The Hub looked wonderful, the food was scrumptious and the music spot on." We were also asked by a number of diners to provide the recipe for Pollo Al Ajillo which proved a popular alternative to the superb paella cooked by our ex-residents Mike and Tom (many thanks to both).

Pollo al Ajillo (serves 4)

Ingredients

12 cloves garlic, peeled, 6 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil, Four chicken breasts or 8 thighs, 150ml fino sherry (or dry white wine), 30 threads of saffron, 70g raisins, 50g toasted pine nuts, Seasoning

Method

Add the saffron strands to 100ml boiling water and leave to infuse. Soak the raisins in warm water. Heat the olive oil in a saucepan or casserole and fry the garlic until golden brown. Remove from the oil and set aside.

Add the chicken and brown on both sides. Set aside with the garlic.

Add the saffron water and sherry to the pan and shake vigorously to help the wine emulsify with the oil.

Reduce the heat and simmer for 5 minutes.

Return the chicken and garlic to the pan along with the pine nuts and drained raisins.

Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Cover and simmer for 15-20 minutes or until chicken is cooked. The sauce should be slightly thick – add a little water if too thick or reduce if too thin.

On the night we served it with parmentier potatoes and salad. Or you could serve it with some nice crusty bread or new potatoes.

Buen provecho!

Doggy issues...

The Hare team are still hearing comments about dog mess in various areas of the village. We appreciate that the majority of owners are responsible and do clean up after their pets but there still seems to be an issue, particularly on the Millennium Green and surrounding area. Dog mess is a most unacceptable and offensive type of litter. Dog fouling is not only deeply unpleasant, it is dangerous. Contact with dog excrement can cause toxocariasis – a nasty infection that can lead to dizziness, nausea, asthma and even blindness or seizures.

Anyone who fails to clear up after their dog can be issued with a Fixed Penalty Notice of up to £100. If the case goes to court this could cost the owner or person in charge of the animal up to £1,000. The law also states that being unaware a dog has fouled or not having a suitable bag is not a reasonable excuse. All it takes is for someone to report the issue and be prepared to supply a witness statement.

In East Suffolk the areas where the law can be enforced includes commons, beaches, highways, footpaths, verges, car parks, pedestrianised areas, promenades, sports fields and pitches, village and town greens, play areas, parks, gardens and other community amenity spaces. So there are not many places where it could be classified as “legal”.

Please be vigilant with your pooch when out walking and always carry dog poop bags. The Parish Council has the funding in place for an extra dog bin in the village – if you have any comments as to where this can be conveniently placed please contact one of your councillors (details on back page).

Weather report: August-September

Autumn is here again - making the summer seem all too short. The weather is now starting to follow the seasonal pattern, more unsettled with sunshine and showers, windier, cooler by day and night and all encompassed by the ever shortening daylight hours. So where are we in respect of rainfall?

Few will not have noticed that September has been fairly dry in this area but with some seeing more rain than others as the showers are of a hit and miss nature. So far this month I have recorded 1.02" or 25.91mm compared with 1.48" or 37.59mm of rain in the same period last year.

The meteorologists say that East Anglia is very dry both this month and for the year. To date, recorded rainfall in my garden stands at 14.19" or 360.43mm: at the same point last year there had been 18.43" or 468.12 mm - over 4" or 101mm shortfall so far. With ever increasing concern around global warming, we will see various weather and rainfall anomalies v. predictions. In our geographical area, predictions forecast that perhaps it will be wetter and cooler in the summer as the years roll by. Increasingly though, the jet stream as I've said before, seems to dictate our weather patterns but it is nothing new for a temperate climate like ours. Certainly we will see more extremes with time.
