Happy 100th Stanley Clover

Many of you may remember Stanley Clover, who lived at the Gatehouse in Laundry Lane and was the proud curator of a beautiful cottage garden.

His family moved into Valley Farm in 1947 which they farmed until 1979. Stan remained in and around Huntingfield until 2018 – a resident for 71 years! On October 5th he will celebrate his 100th birthday.

Some memories of his time in the village are shared on page 5.

Village Picnic

Community events in Huntingfield do seem like a distant memory. Cast your mind back to the beginning of 2020 with performances of Mildred, The Power of a Dream in the church, Wassailing around the community orchard, regular Hub brunches to enjoy and Friday night bingo!

So, when Sunday August 30th wasn't looking too promising to begin with a good number of local residents donned some extra layers and met, at a social distance, determined to make the most of the Village Picnic. Thankfully the sun eventually decided to make an appearance and everyone enjoyed their picnic food and a convivial afternoon including music of their own choosing.

Thanks go to the Millennium Green Trustees who organised the first (and possibly last?) post-lockdown community event of 2020. Unfortunately the annual Apple Day planned for October will not be going ahead due to the current government restrictions. It looks like we will have to wait until next autumn to enjoy this popular event but there will be a fundraising virtual raffle. See page 7.

Ride & Stride, Pedal & Drive

There was an impressive array of vintage cars stopping off at St Mary's Church on the morning of Saturday 12th September together with a flow of cyclists throughout the day. This annual event raises money for the Suffolk Historic Churches Trust and involves sponsored visits to a number of churches and chapels in Suffolk using your chosen mode of transport.

The cars that processed through the village gathered earlier at Heveningham Hall and, following their church visits, were to congregate at Lavenham.

Thanks to the members of the PCC who manned the Church during the day (and also tidied the churchyard whilst monitoring the visitors!).

Annual Parochial Church Meeting

Notice is hereby given of a meeting of parishioners to be held at St Mary the Virgin Huntingfield on Sunday 11th Oct at 2pm for the election of persons to serve on the Parochial Church Council and for the election of Sidespersons.

At the Annual Parochial Church meeting a report will be given on the life of the parish including its financial affairs in accordance with the Synodical Government Measure, 1969. The Church electoral roll will also be presented.

Your Hub. Your great resource.

One thing strikes almost every visitor to our lovely village. They invariably say something like "Wow! what a lovely venue your village hall is! What a superb community resource".

And so it is. Our Hub is a unique and splendid asset for the three villages it serves - Heveningham, Ubbeston and Huntingfield. And it's getting better.

Because of Covid-19 the Hub has had to close these last several months. But it will soon re-open albeit in a limited capacity and a managed, safe way. And, in time, the Hub will return to fulfil its role – along with the Huntingfield Arms – as one of the focal points of our village. A new management plan for the Hub is currently being formed. There are crucial roles for part-time workers and we're also inviting applications from anyone who might wish to serve as a Hub trustee on behalf of our entire community.

So please watch this space for further news, and if you can, do step forward to help make your Hub the greatest possible asset for our wonderful community. Thank you.

The Hub Trustees

Could you be a trustee of the Hub, Huntingfield?

The Hub is a splendid modern village hall, a superb community resource serving the three villages of Heveningham, Ubbeston and Huntingfield. We are looking to recruit several community minded and well-motivated individuals to volunteer to serve their community as Hub trustees.

The trustees work as a team and put the interests of the local community first, as together with our volunteers we strive to maximise the benefits of the Hub for the three villages. We aim to make the work of trustees interesting and varied and have restructured to recruit for two part-time roles that will reduce the workload on any individual trustee. Please note, the Hub is committed to representing equal opportunities and as the current trustee board is predominantly male, we are particularly keen to encourage female applicants.

For an initial conversation please contact any of the trustees or write or email to the address below.

Marketing, admin & finance officer (part time contract) for the Hub, Huntingfield.

The Hub is a splendid modern village hall, a superb community resource serving the three villages of Heveningham, Ubbeston and Huntingfield. We are looking to recruit an experienced, responsible, and self-motivated individual living nearby for approximately 5/6 hours per week at a rate of £12 per hour on a contractual basis (variable and regularly reviewed).

Reporting to the Hub trustees, the role will include a range of duties to ensure that the Hub is efficiently run and effectively promoted to key audiences including accounts, administration, event publicity and promotion. The ideal candidate will be flexible as to hours worked, friendly, responsive and supportive to requests.

For a detailed job description please apply below. Closing date for applications 15th October 2020.

Weather report: August - September 2020

As I sit here compiling my report, I glance out of the window and see it's still raining heavily with leaden skies and strong winds blowing the trees. It's certainly not a day for meeting outside with another person and definitely not with five others!

However, in the main the weather has been fairly kind to those of us staying at home in the garden. There have been pleasant warm spells interspersed with a few cooler windier days which has been the pattern since the beginning of lockdown in the spring. The rainfall total for September was looking sparse until about 3 days ago when the weather pattern changed and the jet stream suddenly swung to the south of the UK. This change was, in the main, caused by a hurricane offshore in the NW Atlantic near North America. Who would have thought that an event so far away would affect our shore? The result was rain, and lots of it. We are now closer to the Aug./Sept. 2019 totals which were 3.65 inches (92.71mm) compared with 3.24 inches (82.29mm) - not a huge difference and, with more rain to come, my guess is that it'll end fairly similar.

Prophecies for the autumn and winter weather are unlikely to be forthcoming as the weather experts say that 'normal' weather patterns in the upper atmosphere have not yet manifested themselves!

Stay safe and stick to the rules.

Takeaway menu from the Arms

During lockdown the Huntingfield Arms kept us going with food supplies and a range of delicious takeaway dishes. It's been so popular that they have continued with a selection supplied chilled and ready to eat/reheat from Wednesday every week or a hot takeaway selection from Thursday. Plus there is a spectacular Sunday roast (available 12-7pm).

If you would like to join the weekly menu mailout please email steven.back@me.com or call the Arms on 798320.

They will also be supplying a fully prepared Christmas lunch to collect on Christmas Eve and a full list of Christmas food available to pre order will be available from 5th October.

Stanley Clover

Stan was head boy at school in Parkeston near Dovercourt before leaving at the age of 14 to work on the family farm

Stanley Clover, a long time resident of Huntingfield, will be celebrating his one hundredth birthday on October 5th. Although no longer living in the village he is always keen to know what is going on. Stan left his beloved Gatehouse in Laundry Lane in 2018 to live with his daughter Angela and is now enjoying life in a wonderful care home in Blundeston.

Stan and his family moved to Valley Farm from East London in 1947. Along with his brother Ron and sister Doris he worked on the mixed farm until it was sold in 1979. Stan had been living at The Croft in Ubbeston from where he ran the family haulage business and retired to Laundry Lane to devote his time to the garden and the propagation of plants - Clivia being one of his favourites. He enjoyed showing people round his garden and greenhouse which he referred to as the Folly!

With his mum and sister on the beach at Southend

When Stan was first living at the Gatehouse he had a pet bantam cockerel, aptly named 'Syd Vicious'. Syd would attack anyone entering the garden with Stan being the only person who could pick him up! His home was a dog kennel up in an apple tree in the back garden: in the morning he watched for Stan's curtains to open and rushed to the back door to be fed. Poor Syd had a sad ending when he was killed by neighbour's dogs.

Stan and the infamous Syd

At the 'youthful' age of 96 Stan was up a tree to cut a branch off when he fell. Luckily he wasn't badly hurt apart from shock and some bruising. Afterwards, when he had visitors or went shopping he would be asked if he had "fallen out of any trees lately?"

Another subject he liked to talk about was his wartime experiences in the RAF. He joined the RAF in 1940 and worked as a mechanic on Spitfire engines, mostly in the Middle East, until he returned home to Dagenham in 1945.

We hope you have a very happy One Hundredth Birthday Stanley from everyone in the village of Huntingfield.

Exercise classes return to The Hub

The ever-changing government restrictions mean that The Hub has to remain closed for the majority of community and social events.

However, exercise classes are still allowed to take place provided they follow strict guidelines. As a result we are pleased to say that pilates classes under the auspices of Orchid Fitness will restart on 1st October with two sessions at 9-10am and 10.20-11.20am. If you are interested in attending please contact Nikki – details are in her advertisement (left).

Yoga-style “Stretch and Strengthen” classes, run by Trish Dent, have not seen enough uptake so far to restart at the Hub. Trish tells us she will monitor the level of interest and will return when it is viable to do so. If you are interested in her classes please see www.trishdent.co.uk or call her on 01986 780939.

In line with government requirements the Hub is COVID-19 compliant and the hirers are following the advice of their governing bodies to ensure their clients are kept safe.

Audit of Church keys

For security and insurance purposes the Parochial Church Council are carrying out an audit of church keys. If you hold a key to St. Mary's Church, Huntingfield would you please inform the Church Warden, Emma Ward 785343

Mobile Library

The mobile library is still visiting Huntingfield although social distancing requires only one person at a time on the bus so you may have to queue. The next visits will be 6th October and 3rd November – outside the Hub from 3.10-3.30 pm. Information on our route (13) can be found at <https://www.suffolklibraries.co.uk/mobiles-home/saxmundham-mobile-library-route-13/>.

Come along and join if you're not already a library member. Books can be ordered and brought right to your door-step.

Notes from the sheep pen

Baa to you all...

Hasn't it been a glorious summer! Almost too hot at times. The grass has been abundant and we have made great use of it, putting on meat just where the boss wants it. To date 50% of our lambs have reached their target weight from grass and have been sold. Demand has been strong and looks set to continue for the rest of the year. The grass growth is slowing down, initially from drought and, as the temperature falls, it too will have an increasing effect. The remainder of our lambs have been moved onto arable "catch" crops, which include stubble turnips, radish and tares, and a mixture of all three. These crops help the soil conserve moisture and return fertility prior to being planted with edible spring crops for you humans!

We older girls are in preparation for the coming breeding season, having been vaccinated for foot rot, wormed and treated for lice (similar to head lice in humans) which has been a particular problem this year. Our boyfriends are being gathered in small groups dotted around Heveningham, Henham and the home farm in readiness for the 1st November. If they get together in groups of more than ten or a dozen they fight - quite often to the death - it makes the team really cross. This year's chaps of choice are predominantly Berrichons - apparently, it's because they have nice bottoms! So, for now, fun all around.

Ewe, as in you know who!

Look out for a Virtual Apple Day Raffle

As you may have read there will be no Apple Day this year but the MG trustees are organizing a fundraising virtual raffle with some fantastic prizes from the usual supporters.

Keep an eye out for more information.

.. and the cowshed

We too have enjoyed the summer albeit with some seasonal problems we've not seen to such an extent for some years, mainly due to the high burden of flies.

Firstly though, the good news: some locals have been asking the boss why us girls are moved so regularly, as it seems to them. As I said last time, we pregnant girls came to Valley Farm for some R&R and now have been moved on to old Floppy Hat's farm to calve under his watchful eye. So far 30 of us have calved out of 138, and, as with lambing, it seems there have been nothing but problems from the beginning. We have had three breach presentations and one premature so far, with the vet being called out on one occasion. The dreadful weather during the last week has also caused the team lots of extra problems.

The yearlings, who will be put in calf next spring, arrived after us. They have now returned to the home farm in Essex to be housed for the winter. Some of you may have seen the team truck collecting them. Most of the replacement female calves have been bought and are being reared at Heveningham: it's always a very tricky time and keeps Lucy and his nibs on their toes.

At the beginning I indicated that the fly burden this year has been particularly bad which subsequently caused an infection called New Forest disease, sometimes referred to as "pink eye". It's transmitted by flies that settle around our eyes seeking moisture and is then carried from one to another. The team treat us regularly with long-acting repellents, but in a very bad year, such as this, it is difficult to control. An antibiotic injection in the eyelid as soon as possible sees us recover well but it does increase the workload for all concerned and, as you can imagine, we are not too keen on needles near our eyes. Fortunately, Lucy and the boss are good at restraining us, although this year it has been on an all too regular basis.

So lovely residents of Huntingfield - it's moo to you!

Emma's Column

There have been two meetings of the Parish Council since the last issue of the Hare, both held socially distanced and COVID-19 compliant at the Hub. Thanks to all the councillors and parishioners who attended under the difficult circumstances.

The extraordinary meeting of 3rd August saw the appointment of our new clerk, Julie Collett. It's a welcome back to the Parish Council for Julie who has served in various roles over the years.. including in my current role as Chair.

Other business was mainly to approve two planning applications: an annexe at Lark Rise and the conversion of various agri-cultural buildings into holiday accommodation at Valley Farm. There were no objections to either submission. The only query was regarding access via Laundry Lane to Valley Farm during construction works and we were assured that no construction traffic will use the lane - the new access road from Brick Kiln Lane will be utilised.

The second meeting of 9th August had, unsurprisingly, little to report. The new defibrillator cabinet has arrived and I see this has now been fitted. The planned Speed Indicator Device (SID) is waiting for a response from highways who have a backlog: it may be some time before we see it installed.

Issues arising included a complaint from a local resident regarding the speed of tractors on the Linstead Road/Barrells Hill which we are referring on to our District Councillor who is currently looking into issues of farm traffic around the area in general. It was also brought to our attention that there is a large dip by the steps on the village green - a potential hazard. Cllr Blackmore kindly offered to look into getting this filled in. At the same time he will investigate the "jaunty" angle of the seat around the oak on the green which appears to be sinking!

Dates of future meetings are 11th November 2020, 13th January and 10th March 2021. Agendas, minutes and other documents relating to the Parish Council can be viewed at <http://huntingfield.onesuffolk.net/huntingfield-parish-council/>

Petanque

Some of the Huntingfield Hares have been back on the piste playing in our own Knock-out Cup where we are well into the quarter finals. One of our new players, Janet, is already through to the semi-finals. Will there be a different name on the trophy this year? For the first time one of our female players?

Although the Petanque League games were cancelled, some competitions continued. Four Hare members - Steve, Mike, Simon and David - have played in the triples. Up against premier league competition they did brilliantly to get through the first round robin stage and find themselves in the Knock-out. Unfortunately, they were beaten by strong opposition from the Aldringham Parrot who are in League 2. Steve has also taken part in the singles competition, again having some great games.

All these players have said its a good experience and they have realised that, whatever the piste, they can play as well as any others.. well, nearly! Some practice needed. Onwards and upwards for next year.

Budding Ideas

After months without any significant rain finally the heavens have opened and very welcome it is too. Lawns are greening up, water butts are filling and if you don't like the heat, temperatures are getting back to sensible levels. It won't be long before the thermals make an appearance!

Autumn months are critical when it comes to preparing the garden for the coming year and your lawn in particular will be grateful for some attention, particularly after the trials of the past dry, hot months. Give it a boost now with an application of autumn weed and feed: this will work on strengthening roots, kill moss and broad-leaved weeds and promote strong growth to help the lawn combat disease and cold, wet conditions. If you really want to give it some TLC follow this with scarification: raking out all the accumulated debris, thatch and dead moss. Aeration is next - spike the lawn every six inches or so using a long tined fork. Then top-dress using a mix of sharp sand/peat free soil, brushing across the surface and into holes, which will help keep the holes open for longer and allow good oxygen flow to the roots.

Continuing the lawn theme, when mowing raise the cutting level on your mower to help the grass rebuild its strength and re-cut edges where necessary. You can get away with murder if your lawn is well edged with a crisp line. Using a half moon spade cut your line, either by eye or using a straight edge and strip out the excess turf to give your lawn/borders definition. You can always install a plastic or metal edging strip to ensure that the edge lasts long term. Personally, I use Everedge (other brands are available!) which is easy to install and very long lasting. Install it just below the level of the grass and your lawn edges will pretty much look after themselves.

Now is a great time to prune roses; there are varying schools of thought on this, some prune in October and some leave until February - I do both! Pruning now will reduce long leggy shoots, help to avoid wind damage over winter and allow you to give them a better, compact and tidy shape. Always prune to an outward facing bud. With climbers, at this time of year, it is easier to see where to prune and where to tie in to support frames. If you have roses troubled by blackspot make sure that you gather up the fallen leaves and either burn or bin them. Do not put them in the compost bin as this allows the virus to overwinter and re-infect.

Take the time to mulch borders with some well-rotted compost; just spread over the surface of the soil and leave the worms to do the rest. It will add body and nutrients to your borders and improve water retention for the next year.

Split herbaceous perennials that have outgrown their positions, such as Geraniums, Day lillies, etc. Dig up the clump and then slice through with a sharp spade. Remove the old central woody mass and cut into sections: replant either into borders or into pots to grow on. It's a fabulous way to acquire free plants and also improve the plant stock.

The falling leaves provide a fabulous resource. If you don't have space for a dedicated compost system pop them into black plastic bags, poke a few holes in the bags and leave them somewhere dry and dark. They need to dry out but stay moist - you will need to add water every so often to ensure the leaves rot down.

As the leaves fall the bare bones of the garden are easier to see and it's a time to plan. Think about seeds you might want to grow or new plants that will enhance it - adding structure, colour and scent. Also, consider the contribution your plants make. No matter what size your garden, every plant should justify its place: be brutal, take out anything that doesn't fit, enhance or contribute to the overall look you want to achieve. Half the skill of gardening is assessing what works and what does not. Take a step back, sit, take time and the plants will tell you.

Nature Notes

We are certainly living in strange times with our entire human world laid low by a microscopic virus that isn't, in many ways, a truly living organism. Let's all hope and pray that medical science can help us recover from what is basically a self-inflicted situation.

Nightingale

It's also a strange time of the year in wildlife terms as we have many obvious signs of summer and winter reflected in the change of the seasons. For example, the summer migrant species that come to the UK to breed and spend the warm months taking advantage of an abundance of food supplies that would not be here all year. They then fly to warmer climes, often south of the equator, to spend our winter months. These species include many that we enjoy seeing in the summer such as Swallows, House Martins, Nightingales and Cuckoos. Also, some insect species such as Red Admiral Butterflies.

Red Admiral

Swallow

Soon the Swallows will follow the Swifts that left Huntingfield in August, to fly to Southern Africa to feed high above the elephants and lions. I still find the migrant bird's abilities incredible and look forward to their regular return every spring. There is nothing better than the joyful screams of the Swifts as they zoom around the Arms on the village green.

Flowers, such as Toadflax, are also blooming and whilst some leaves are starting to turn into their wonderful autumnal colour, many plants are still growing and fully leaved.

Toadflax

On the other hand, lots of fruit such as rose hips, blackberries, hawthorn berries and crab apples are in abundance in many local hedges. Some berries, such as those of the ivy, will remain right through the winter. Of course, these provide a food source for a wide range of animals which are resident during our cold months, some spending the whole year here. Birds such as Redwings, Bramblings and Fieldfares fly across the North Sea from countries that will be much colder than Britain in the winter. In fact, we may not think it likely, but these birds will enjoy a winter break here that is positively balmy compared with the regions where they have bred.

Thus, at this time of year it is fairly easy on the right day to see a Swallow flying over a flower with a Red Admiral butterfly feeding on it and a Redwing feeding on berries in your garden hedge. It is really quite amazing.

Continuing along the amazing and strange theme, there has been a sighting of a Sooty Tern and, more recently, a Black Browed Albatross flying south down the Suffolk Coast.

Both were seen from Sizewell and Thorpeness. The Sooty Tern breeds in the South Atlantic (some on Ascension Island, which has been in the news with human migrants in mind) and the Albatross breeds in places such as the Falkland Islands. The latter can live for seventy years and has a wingspan of 7-8 feet. Again, it's almost unbelievable that birds from so far away could be seen in Suffolk - as I say we live in strange times!

Lammergeier

At the time of writing there has been another rare sighting of a large bird, a Lammergeier, which is a very large vulture with a wingspan of 9 feet. Heralding from the Pyrenees, it has been seen at Foxley in nearby Norfolk so do keep your eyes open, you just never know.

Tony Howe

Huntingfield Community Response

Under the auspices of the Parish Council the village has a Huntingfield Community Response Team who can provide help, support and information for anyone that needs it during the COVID-19 crisis. Services such as shopping, pharmaceutical / parcel collections, dog-walking etc. can be arranged with a team of volunteers. Additionally, if you need someone to talk to please pick up the phone.

You can contact the Team via phone or email:

@ Water Lilies Swimming School Ltd

"My daughter has recently started at Water Lilies and in the short space of time her confidence has soared, she is now a happier swimmer!"

Amanda, Parent

We're a local independent swimming school offering high quality small group STA lessons for all ages and abilities, since 2007!

Over 1,500 babies, children and adults swim with us each week in 11 lovely private pools across Norfolk & Suffolk.

- Small group swimming lessons for school age-children after school and on Saturdays!
- Parent & Baby / Toddler fun and friendly swimming classes - we welcome babies from 6 weeks old!
- Motivating small group classes for pre-school children!
- At the lovely warm pool in Ubbeston and other private pools locally. Contact us to find out more!
